"Millions for defence but not one cent for tribute."

MR. EDITOR.—The object of the convention, now being held at Augusta, Ga. has the hearty approbation of every true son of the south. Our present commercial connexion with the north is ruinous, and humiliating, and must end, if not changed, in the utter, and permanent, degradation of the whole slave-holding region. But I apprehend that such conventions can accomplish but little towards our commercial emancipation, while the fiscal action of the great central government shall continue, as it has done for half a century, to create heavy annual balances against the south, turning the course of exchanges, and irresistibly diverting our trade from its natural channels.

Is it not obvious, sir, that the southern states, with their fine ports, with free egress to the ocean at all seasons of the year, and lying right in front as it were, of the great commercial countries of Europe, would, unless there were powerful counteracting causes, carry on a direct inward and outward commerce with those countries, which now, consume their staples and furnish their supplies. This, sir, is the natural, and I am assured was the actual course of trade till the "American System" of Tariffs, United States Banks, and unequal disbursements, of the common treasure of the country, counteracted, and perverted, as it were, the course of nature, turning our rich streams of commerce through unnatural channels.

Let those who can satisfactorily account for the present ruinous and degrading commercial dependence of the south upon the north, upon any other hypothesis than that just stated. Let me illustrate—suppose the natural course of trade now restored. Then the staple growing states would export directly, 80 millions of their own productions; and consequently, import annually, an equal amount for more.

Upon this amount with the present average rate of taxes—say 25 per cent., there would be collected the enormous sum of 20 millions of dollars. Of this amount under the present system of disbursements 15 millions would be remitted beyond Mason and Dickson's line; and, under Mr. Van Buren's hard money system, the 15 millions would be packed up in boxes and transported to New York, Philadelphia, Boston, &c., to liquidate our annual account of tribute money. But being paid in gold and silver, would not aggravate the injustice, but only make it more palpable to common observation—15 millions in Cotton and Tobacco, or in bills drawn on the proceeds, these articles would be just as onerous. It is obvious then, that under a system of direct trade the south would be annually rendered by operation of law tributary to the north, to the amount of 15 millions of dollars.

Now, sir does any one suppose that the present circuitous system, renders the burden on the south less onerous than if our exports and imports took their natural course. Does any southern man delude himself so far as to believe he escapes the tax on foreign imports because the New York Merchant pays it in the first instance; or that it varies the case to our advantage, that they do not return us the value of our exports in the identical articles imported for those exports. Let no one be so deceived; for no matter in what they pay us, whether in gold or silver, or their own productions, they will not fail to retain in their own tenacious hands, the amount of taxes expended; besides heavy commissions, profits, &c.

My position then is, that, the fiscal action of the General Government is the root of all the evil, and here the south must strike. Conventions of southern Merchants may, and I believe will do good, by awakening the public attention, and eliciting and imparting information. But the over action, and unequal action of the fiscal and political system of the nation must be corrected before the body commercial can right itself.

Unless this can be done, the south must continue to languish, and finally fall a victim to the overshadowing wealth, political, power and physical force of the north.

Sir.—It was with great pleasure I saw the question mooted on the above subject, in a late Camden Courier. I hoped to have heard from you, still farther as to the probability of the good people of Camden uniting with their brethren in Lancaster first in a Road to Lancasterville, and next on one to Charlotte.

DISASTROUS SHIPWRECK.

The "Newbern Spectator" of the 13th inst., informs us that the Steam Boat HOME, capt. Wurms, from New York for Charleston, S. There were ninety passengers, and forty persons composing the crew; twenty of the passengers were saved; how many of the crew is not known. Among the passengers were between thirty and forty ladies, two of whom only escaped; and among them several children, one only was saved.

We have taken the liberty of abridging our obituary notices, owing to their unnecessary length and the extent of our columns, which forbids us in ALL CASES from giving publicity to what is now becoming too trite and common, always to entitle it to respect.

The Hon. JOHN P. RICHARDSON passed through this place on Thursday last, on his way home.

A meeting of the Kershaw Rifle Corps will take place at the Market House, at 10 o'clock, A. M. on Tuesday, the 24th inst. A punctual attendance is required. Those who are desirous of becoming members are invited to attend.

Persons writing by the Express Mail, must bear in mind that the postage must be paid in advance—according to a late act of Congress.

A Pamphlet has been published by a number of Protestants, giving an account of Maria Monk's late visit to Philadelphia, and clearly showing that her statements were evidently designed to prejudice the public mind against the Roman Catholics—that they were false, and she, utterly undeserving of credit.

COTTON.—Our Market has assumed quite a brisk appearance for the last four or five days in this article, which continues to come in, effecting sales at from 9 1/2 to 10 cents for choice lots.

JACK FROST.—Our house-tops were on Saturday morning last crystalized with this harbinger of health, who, from his non-appearance since, seems to have intended nothing more than a flying visit—we trust on his way to New Orleans, where no doubt, every attention will be paid him.

THE STEAMER THOMAS SALDMOND.

We give below an extract from the Baltimore American, in relation to the new Steamer Thomas Saldmond, intended to ply between this and Charleston—she reached the city on Tuesday last, and is expected to leave this morning—those of our citizens who have seen this boat, speak of her as combining strength, speed, and neatness in an eminent degree—she was out in the dreadful storm of the 8th inst. which fully proved her being a good sea boat, and put her machinery to the test—she was the only boat which left Baltimore on the day, that was able to "bide the pelting of the pitiless storm."

Our River being at this time too low for any kind of freight boats to come up, has induced our enterprising owners of the Thomas Saldmond to employ Lighters for the purpose of taking a full load of Cotton down to her, which seems that they are determined to keep moving if they have to cut dirt.

"It will be pleasing to the citizens of Baltimore to know, that notwithstanding the difficulties of the times, the spirit of mechanical enterprise is still alive. I was much gratified by a trip I took in the new steam-boat "Thomas Saldmond," intended to ply between Camden and Charleston, built by those worthy and persevering ship carpenters, Messrs. G. & W. Gardner, and fitted out with its machinery by Messrs. Wells, Miller & Clark. These latter gentlemen, although they have lately sustained a severe loss by a most disastrous fire, have completed this snug little vessel with an engine and boiler combining in economy, neatness and simplicity, certainly not excelled, if equalled, by any of their contemporaries. The calibre of the engine is equal to about fifty horse power, low pressure, and the simplicity of the motion given to the various lifting rods was highly commended by all who took an opportunity of observing it, and I was informed by the engineers, that it is altogether a new plan. The boiler, though expensive in its construction, is calculated for generating steam upon a most economical plan, and in consequence the saving of fuel will be considerable, a matter of paramount importance to the owners.

The talent and enterprise which are exhibited by all the mechanics concerned in the construction and finish of this boat, entitle them to public confidence and patronage, and I hope their spirited and praiseworthy exertions will be duly appreciated by their friends and the public in general."

On motion of Mr. Bones, it was ordered that suitable seats be provided for such of the editors in Augusta as desire to take minutes of the proceedings of the Convention.

The President called on such members as had arrived since the adjournment of the morning to come forward and sign their names, whereupon the following gentlemen came forward: J. M. Gonder, Esq. of Sparta; A. Young, Esq. of Camden, S. C.; and J. W. Bothwell, Esq. of Louisville, Ga.

On motion, the Convention then adjourned.

BY THE SOUTHERN EXPRESS.

We learn that the buildings situated at the mouth of the canal near Carrion Crow, (9 miles below Fort Jackson) owned by Mr. John Donaldson, were swept away on the 16th inst. and that three of the inmates, have been found floating in the Mississippi, drowned, viz: Jesse Gilbert, of North Carolina. Richard Wright and a Mrs. Plummer. The proprietor, a native of New York, and Mr. Plummer, the husband of the lady, are missing, and it is feared have met the same fate.

The keeper of South Point Light House was upset in his boat 6th inst. and narrowly escaped with his life, losing his boat, provisions and many other articles of value. He was on the bottom of the boat 2 hours—was much bruised and had his head fractured when he reached the shore.

The pilot boat Lafayette lost anchor and cable, and received some other slight injury, on the 6th inst.

We yesterday witnessed the imposing ceremonies of the burial of the Rev. ADAM KILGENDON, whose remains were entered in the Roman Catholic cemetery. In the death of this good man, the church of which he was an upright and faithful minister, the Catholic Association for the relief of destitute male orphans, of which he was the founder, and most indefatigable supporter, and the needy and desolate generally, who always found in him the spiritual guide, instructor, and humane friend, all have sustained an irreparable loss.

Upwards of a hundred poor little orphans must peculiarly feel his loss, and their earthly guardian and protector gone, now make an appeal, which must be irresistible, to the benevolence of every humane citizen.

MARRIED.—In Camden, N. J. on the 4th inst. the Rev. FRANCIS P. LEE, Rector of St. Paul's Church, and formerly of this town, to Miss SARAH ANN COOPER, of the former place.

Obituary.

Died at her residence in this place on the 18th inst. Miss SALLY WELSH, in the 82d year of her age; for the last fifty, she was a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was highly esteemed by a large and respectable circle of female friends, who have often experienced her kind attentions.

Died at Cold Stream in Middle Salem, Sumter district, on the 9th inst. the Hon. ROBERT WITHERSPOON, in the 71st year of his age—leaving to a worthy family the benefit of his example and the reflection that the merited and virtuous eminence of the station he occupied in society and the period of life at which a gracious Providence permitted him to arrive should reconcile them to the loss, which in common with the community, and as members of his own amiable circle they have experienced.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON.—The original Hygienic Vegetable Medicine, prepared by W. M. Kin, Esq., Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, Licentiate of Apothecary's Company, Fellow of Bolt Court Society Surgeon to the Royal Union Pension Association, Lancaster Place, Waterloo Bridge, and perpetual pupil of Guy's and St. Thomas's Hospitals, London.

This valuable medicine, the result of twenty years' experience and unparalleled success in the extensive and highly respectable practice of the proprietor, patronized by the faculty and nobility, is now introduced to the notice of the American public, at the earnest solicitation of a number of gentlemen of long and high standing in the profession. It is hoped, as a preliminary step, to check the evils and fatal consequences arising from the use of the numerous deleterious nostrums foisted upon the public by the aid of fabricated proofs of miraculous cures, and other frauds, by a set of mercenary, unprincipled pretenders, so totally ignorant of medical science that it is impossible the monstrous delusion can any longer go down with the intelligent people of this country. These pills, mild and agreeable in their nature, should be kept in every family in cases of sudden illness, for by their prompt administration, cholera, cramps, spasms, fevers, and other alarming complaints, which too often prove fatal, may be speedily cured or prevented. In fact, all those who value good health should never be without them. They are sold in packets, at 50 cents, $1, and $2 each, by every respectable druggist, bookseller, and vendor of medicine in the United States and the Canadas, with copious directions, together with testimonials of professional ability from the following eminent gentlemen: Sir Astley Cooper, J. Abernethy, Jas. Blandell, M. D., W. Back, M. D., J. Aston Key, A. Frampton, M. D. and numerous others. The originals may be seen in possession of the general agent, by whom the medicine is imported into this country, and to whom all applications for agencies must be made.
